

ESPORTS COMPETITION STRUCTURE

SUPER SMASH BROS

LOCAL TOURNAMENTS:

Practice skills with players geographically close to you

ACCUMULATIVE TOURNAMENTS:

Series of small tournaments that allocate points for players to win a spot at a final grand tournament

MAJOR TOURNAMENTS:

Tournaments attended by the majority of top professionals, hold more prestige in winning due to larger amount of entrants

COUNTER STRIKE: GLOBAL OFFENSIVE

LEAGUES:

Teams compete in a scheduled season

MINOR TOURNAMENTS:

Held worldwide for cash prizes or qualifying points for major tournaments

MAJOR TOURNAMENTS:

Top teams, meeting certain criteria, compete in these exclusive events with large prize pools

OVERWATCH

OVERWATCH LEAGUE (OWL):

Franchised league of 12 permanent teams

OVERWATCH CONTENDERS:

Amateur league under OWL

HEARTHSTONE

CHAMPIONSHIP TOUR:

Players earning enough points in each of the 4 competitive seasons or in other approved tournaments can qualify for the annual World Championship

TESPA TOURNAMENTS:

Public collegiate tournaments where teams of 3 compete for scholarship money

SHOW MATCH:

Special 1v1 or 3v3 matches to pit famous players against each other

LEAGUE OF LEGENDS

FRANCHISE LEAGUE:

Each year, 10 permanent teams compete in 2 seasons followed by playoff events to determine the World Championship qualifiers

NON-FRANCHISED LEAGUES:

Similar to the franchise league except that poor performing teams can be kicked out

INTERNATIONAL TOURNAMENTS:

High stakes championships with the world's best teams or entertainment focused show matches

ACADEMY LEAGUES:

Amateur practice league for future professional players